

OKONJIMA EXPERIENCE 2022

LOW SEASON: 01 January 2022 – 30 June 2022

HIGH SEASON: 01 July 2022 – 31 December 2022

MAIN EXPERIENCES

LEOPARD TRACKING: - incl. in Fully Inclusive rate

Our Leopard 'experience' will take you out into the Okonjima Nature Reserve and will allow you to spend more time with our experienced guides and participate in the research data collection for our long-standing leopard project and newly introduced brown hyaena programme. Some of our adult leopards are radio collared which enables the guides to track them with a specialised telemetry device contributing to frequent viewing, giving visitors an opportunity to observe these magnificent predators in their natural habitat and experience the fascinating behaviour and interactions between these two species while they compete for food. Although this significantly increases the chance of an excellent sighting, it cannot ever be guaranteed as they are wild free-roaming predators.

LOW SEASON

Adult: N$ 990.00 pp / Child (6-16yrs): N$ 495.00 pp

HIGH SEASON

Adult: N$ 1100.00 pp / Child (6-16yrs): N$ 550.00 pp

ENDANGERED SPECIES NATURE DRIVE: - incl. in Fully Inclusive rate

This game-drive allows more time to enjoy and understand the Okonjima Nature Reserve as a natural island bound ecosystem. As the private Nature Reserve was established primarily to conserve some of our more threatened mammal species, it provides an increased chance to encounter these relatively rare animals. This is once again assisted by the AfriCat Foundation's research projects on the shy Brown Hyena, Aardvark, Bat-eared fox and Rhino. There are more than 40 mammal species within the Okonjima Nature Reserve, both large and small as well as a good representation of the typical flora. At the discretion of your guide, there may be the chance to view some of these animals, large or small.

LOW SEASON

Adult: N$ 990.00 pp / Child (6-16yrs): N$ 495.00 pp

HIGH SEASON

Adult: N$ 1100.00 pp / Child (6-16yrs): N$ 550.00 pp

GAME DRIVE: - incl. in Fully Inclusive rate

Experienced guides will entertain you with their knowledge, sharing interesting and enlightening information about the history of the Okonjima Nature Reserve and the research gathered over the past 30 years of conservation on Okonjima. On this trail, no telemetry device is used to track any of the carnivores researched by the AfriCat Foundation. Wildlife is the focus of the drive. Visitors are offered insight as our guides attempt to foster a general appreciation of the natural habitat of the Nature Reserve.

OPTIONAL ACTIVITIES

PANGOLIN TRACKING on foot: (Specialized Activity) – weather permitting and at management discretion

The choice of going with the researcher or guide, will be determined by circumstances, weather and operations. Sightings are not guaranteed, as this complex, vulnerable species needs a gentle and respectful approach. Tracking on foot will be done in silence and maintaining a discreet distance. The Pangolin tracking is a specialized night/day (seasonal) activity. During the summer months this activity tends to take place between 10pm and 6am and during the winter months from 5pm to 11pm. As this would be the most active period of the day for these mostly nocturnal animals. You will join a guide and tracker on a walking trail in the dark within the 20 000ha Okonjima Nature Reserve. We limit participation to a max of 6 people per pangolin tracking. This gives the client insight into this secret life of the very endangered Ground Pangolin. A flashlight and walking shoes are compulsory.

NIGHT DRIVE: - weather permitting and at management discretion

Guests are invited on a nocturnal game drive, led by our knowledgeable guides. This evening drive in the Okonjima Nature Reserve allows guests a chance to spot the many nocturnal game species they wouldn’t normally see during the day. After the sun has set and the temperatures have dropped, the African bush comes to life once again: Bat-eared foxes roam about, Aardwolf on the hunt for insects, Owls observe their surroundings from a height. All Okonjima guests are welcome to join a nocturnal drive. The Nocturnal Game Drive is weather dependent and therefore this activity cannot be guaranteed.
